Where will your items go?

Here is an overview of the social initiatives connected to the programme where we give the various donated items a second life:

The Food Bank

Provides food parcels for people with no money for groceries. Food is obtained from surpluses and donations, which reduces food waste and the burden on the environment. Goal: help people in need.

The Salvation Army

Provides shelter for the homeless, professional care, and neighborhood centers that build community connections. Active in Amsterdam and beyond. Helps people rebuild their lives through social work and regain access to the labor market.

Regenboog Group

Supports people living in social poverty, including those isolated by mental health issues, addiction, homelessness, or financial debts. Helps people take back the lead and create a fulfilling, socially active life.

HVO Querido

Supports people in vulnerable situations and helps them regain control over their lives. Offers housing, guidance, and access to social services, encouraging a stable future. Active throughout Amsterdam and collaborating with several shelters so donations directly benefit those in need.

Stichting Dynamo

A welfare organization in Amsterdam that encourages and supports residents to actively participate in society. Offers activities and assistance so that no one has to be left behind.
